

India train derailment

Suspected Maoist rebels derailed an overnight passenger train in eastern India, triggering a crash with an oncoming cargo train that killed more than 70 people and injured hundreds

