

Wednesday, July 14

ON THIS DAY

▲ 2008: Sudanese President Omar al-Bashir was accused of genocide and war crimes in Darfur by the International Criminal Court

1858: English suffragette leader Emmeline Pankhurst was born

1966: Eight student nurses were murdered in a Chicago dormitory

1976: The Chinese-built Tanzam railway, linking Zambia with Tanzania, was completed ahead of schedule

2009: A Saudi court sentenced 323 people for links to anti-government groups in the first publicly reported trials in the kingdom since a series of terrorist attacks began in 2003