

Chinese miners trapped

Rescuers are racing to reach more than 150 coal miners trapped after water flooded into a pit that was still under construction in China's northern Shanxi province

Wangjialing coal mine:
Some 261 workers were inside when mine flooded.
108 escaped or were rescued

Accidents killed 2,631 coal miners last year, an average of seven a day according to official statistics