

Britain shootings

A taxi driver went on a shooting spree in northwest England, killing at least five people and injuring 25 before apparently turning the gun on himself

