

UN calls for Kyrgyzstan humanitarian corridor

The UN is urging Kyrgyzstan to set up an aid corridor to help people caught up in ethnic killing between Kyrgyz and Uzbeks. At least 170 people have been killed in the cities of Osh and Jalalabad in the deadliest clashes in the Central Asian nation in 20 years

 Main area of ethnic Uzbek population in Kyrgyzstan

Fergana Valley:

Uzbeks, who make up some 15% of Kyrgyzstan's 5.3 million people, outnumber Kyrgyz population in fertile plain