

Pressure tests key to stopping Gulf oil leak

By gradually closing three valves in a new high-pressure capping stack BP has temporarily stopped oil flowing into the Gulf of Mexico. Pressure testing will indicate whether or not oil is leaking out further down the well

