

Iroquois team caught in bureaucratic net

Britain has refused entry to a native American lacrosse team using passports issued by the Iroquois Confederacy, insisting that they use internationally recognised documents such as U.S. or Canadian passports. The U.S. had earlier granted the team a “one-time-only” waiver to travel

Iroquois team, which has always travelled using own documents, planned to fly from New York to Manchester for World Lacrosse Championship

IROQUOIS CONFEDERACY

- Confederacy territory in 1720
- Iroquois communities today
Population: Around 30,000

Iroquois helped invent lacrosse 1,000 years ago

Pictures: AP

© GRAPHIC NEWS