

IATA hikes airline profits

The International Air Transport Association predicts the world's airlines will earn $8.9 billion in 2010. IATA had previously forecast a loss of $2.8bn, but revised its estimate based on an 11% jump in air traffic this year

Regional profits

North America
$3.5bn

Middle East: $400m

Europe
Loss of $1.3bn

Latin America
$1.0bn

Africa
$100m

Asia-Pacific
$5.2bn