

Harry Potter – franchise of the decade

Harry Potter and the Deathly Hallows – Part 1, the penultimate movie in J. K. Rowling's fantasy epic, hits cinemas on November 19.

The previous six Potter movies have pulled in $6.7 billion in worldwide box-office and home movie sales, plus $7 billion more in retail products

J. K. Rowling:
Personal fortune
estimated at $1bn

Harry Potter and the...	Year released	Directed by	Movie budget	Box office (worldwide)
Philosopher's Stone	2001	Chris Columbus	$125m	$968.6m
Chamber of Secrets	2002	Chris Columbus	$100m	$866.3m
Prisoner of Azkaban	2004	Alfonso Cuarón	$130m	$795.4m
Goblet of Fire	2005	Mike Newell	$150m	$892.2m
Order of the Phoenix	2007	David Yates	$150m	$937.0m
Half-Blood Prince	2009	David Yates	$250m	$933.9m
Deathly Hallows – 1	2010	David Yates	$250m	Total box office $5.39 billion