

Digital music sales slow

The growth in digital music sales is slowing considerably, according to industry estimates, with global sales rising by just 6% in 2010

