

Indonesia food fears

Indonesian crop failures, brought on by nearly a year of heavy rain, are pushing up food prices for tens of millions of impoverished families. More than 100 million Indonesians live on less than $2 a day

Consumer price inflation, %

January 2011: 7.02%

Chilies now cost up to $11 per kg, making them more expensive than beef

