

Chevron faces $8.6bn bill

An Ecuadorean court has ordered Chevron to pay up to $8.6 billion in environmental damages. The class-action suit claims Texaco – which Chevron now owns – contaminated waterways over 23 years before the oil giant left Ecuador in 1992

Areas of oil exploration and production (1969-1992)

Source: Chevron

© GRAPHIC NEWS