

Gaddafi's family tree

First wife

Gaddafi reportedly did not meet her before wedding. They had one son, then separated after six months

Muammar Gaddafi (68)
Longest-serving leader in Africa and Arab world. Has ruled for 42 years

Second wife – Safia (nee Farkash)
Mother of seven of Gaddafi's biological children. Couple also adopted two children, Milad and Hanna.

Milad is credited with saving Gaddafi's life during U.S. bombing of Tripoli in 1986. Four-year-old Hanna was killed in raid

Mohammad (40). Eldest son is head of Libyan Olympic Committee

Saif al-Islam (38). Seen as his father's most likely successor. Appeared on TV during protests to warn of civil war

Saadi (37)
Former professional footballer, runs Libyan Football Federation

Mutassim (36). Former officer in Libyan army, now National Security Adviser

Hannibal (35)
His brief arrest in Geneva for assault in 2008 led to bilateral row with Switzerland

Saif al-Arab (29). Accused of smuggling arms in 2008. Charges later dropped

Khamis (28)
Police officer, reported to have ordered suppression of protests in Benghazi

Ayesha (34)
Lawyer, formed part of Saddam Hussein's defence team following his arrest in Iraq