Gaddafi steps up attack on oil terminal

The Libyan airforce has bombed the country's main oil terminal, pushing the cost of benchmark Brent crude above $115 a barrel. The attack on the Es Sider terminal is the first against a key oil facility since the unrest began

Gaddafi-held Opposition-held *Clashes Oil refinery @ Oil terminal Zawiya: Refinery closed Aidabiya Benghazi Al Bavda Tripoli Zuara Al Brega Tobruk Misurata Nalut Ras Gharyan Sirt Lanuf Cvrenaica Es Sider platform Ghadames basin Sabha Sirte Basin Murzua basin Kufra 200km 125 miles LIBYAN OIL PRODUCTION Millions of barrels per day (1965-2011) 4.0 1970: Oil production peaks at 3.3m bpd Mar 2011: Production 3.5 falls to some 500,000 1970s: Gaddafi's nationalisation 3.0 barrels per day - down of oil industry results in production from about 1.58m bpd 2.5 decline 1993: UN sanctions before crisis ban import of 2.0 refinery equipment 15 10 2004: Rapprochement with 1986: U.S. 0.5 West, U.S. sanctions lifted bombs Libva 1990 2010 2000

© GRAPHIC NEWS

Sources: EIA. BP Statistical Review 2010