

Fresh quake hits Japan

A magnitude 7.1 earthquake rattled the northeastern coast of Japan on Monday evening, just 19km from the damaged nuclear plant at Fukushima

