

Abdul Fatah Younis, 67 – Former interior minister under Gaddafi, helped Libyan leader seize power in 1969 coup. Defected to rebels in February but faced mistrust because of his close ties with regime

Libyan rebel chief killed

Libya's rebel authorities have said that their military commander, Abdul Fatah Younis, has been shot and killed by pro-Gaddafi assailants, hours after anti-government forces claimed to have made big gains in their campaign to oust Colonel Muammar Gaddafi

Benghazi: Younis found dead on Thursday after being recalled from frontline near Brega for questioning on progress of campaign

- Pro-government control
- Rebel control
- Approximate extent of rebel-controlled territory
- Towns captured in latest rebel offensive

