

Libya rebels say Gaddafi's son killed by Nato

If confirmed, the death of Khamis – one of the main commanders of the Libyan leader's military forces – would be a severe blow to Gaddafi both in terms of morale and military leadership

Zlitan: Rebel forces claim Nato strike killed Khamis, and more than 30 others

Khamis: Commander of 32nd Brigade, one of Gaddafi's most professional and loyal units

● Pro-Gaddafi control ● Rebel control
 [Red Outline] Extent of rebel-controlled territory

GADDAFI'S MOST PROMINENT SONS

Saif al-Islam

Best known son, holds no political post but wields vast influence

Mutassim

Army officer and National Security Adviser since 2010

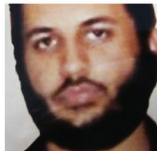

Saadi

Former footballer, commander of Libyan special forces

Hannibal

Senior role at National Maritime Transport Company

Saif al-Arab

Second youngest son killed by Nato air strike on May 1

Arrest warrants on charges of crimes against humanity issued by International Criminal Court against Saif al-Islam and his father in June