

Riots spread through British cities

Rioting, looting and arson spread across and beyond London on a third night of violence in Britain's worst unrest in decades. Violence began after police shot dead a 29-year-old man in disputed circumstances

Monday night: Outbreaks of disorder in Liverpool, Birmingham, Bristol, Nottingham and Leeds

1. Thursday: Mark Duggan shot dead by police at Ferry Lane, Tottenham

2. Saturday: Violence breaks out in Tottenham and Wood Green after around 300 people gather at Tottenham police station calling for "justice" for Duggan and his family

3-7. Sunday: Riots and looting spread to Chingford Mount, Walthamstow, Hackney, Islington and Oxford Circus

8. Monday: Shops looted at Waltham Forest. Scotland Yard says "small and mobile groups" of looters are moving throughout London

9. Sony distribution centre set alight at Waltham Abbey

10-12. Gangs of youths attack police officers and shops in Camden, Ealing, and Clapham Junction

13-15. Firefighters attend arson attacks in Brixton, Enfield and Peckham

16. Arson attacks in Croydon. Residents trapped in flats forced to jump to safety

17. Rioting and arson attacks spread to Woolwich. Shops looted in Greenwich