

Haqqani Network factfile

The Haqqani Network, which allegedly has the backing of elements within the Pakistani spy agency – the Inter Services Intelligence directorate (ISI) – is responsible for some of the most lethal attacks in Afghanistan

▶ Jalalludin Haqqani: CIA asset received cash and weapons via ISI in 1980s to fight Soviet army. Forged close links with Al Qaeda following 2001 U.S.-led invasion

▶ Siraj Haqqani: Son of, and more extreme than, Jalalludin. Group leader since 2005

Kabul Attack Network:

Comprised of Haqqani Network, Taliban and Hizb-i Islami-Gulbuddin

Aug 6, Wardak province:

Chinook shot down, killing 38 U.S. and Afghan personnel

Sep 10, Wardak:

Truck bomb at NATO base wounds 77 U.S. troops

AFGHANISTAN

Sep 13, Kabul:

19-hour assault targets U.S. embassy and NATO HQ

Sep 25, Kabul:

U.S. citizen killed in attack on CIA office at Ariana Hotel