

Champion-elect Vettel made to wait

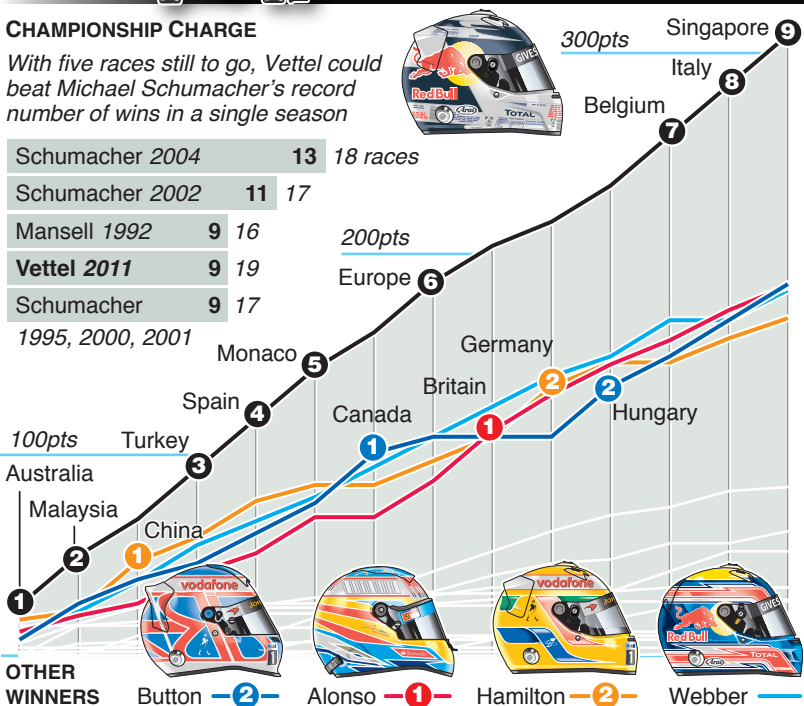

Sebastian Vettel is on the verge of becoming F1's youngest-ever double champion, with McLaren's Jenson Button the only mathematical challenger to the Red Bull driver's second title. Even if Button wins all five remaining races, a single point will clinch the championship for Vettel

Sebastian Vettel		Current points: 309pts
Jenson Button	185		Japan	Korea	India	Abu Dhabi	Brazil	Max 310
Fernando Alonso	184		25pts per win, total of 125 available					309
Mark Webber	182							307

CHAMPIONSHIP CHARGE

With five races still to go, Vettel could beat Michael Schumacher's record number of wins in a single season

Schumacher 2004	13	18 races
Schumacher 2002	11	17
Mansell 1992	9	16
Vettel 2011	9	19
Schumacher 1995, 2000, 2001	9	17

OTHER WINNERS

Button — 2 — Alonso — 1 — Hamilton — 2 — Webber — 1