

Rare October snowstorm hammers U.S.

Heavy snow and windy weather have left 2.8 million households across the U.S. Northeast without power. Maine, Massachusetts and New Jersey say that normal service will not resume for several days

