

Spain's conservatives set for sweeping gains

The conservative People's Party (PP) is on course for a landslide victory in Spain's November 20 general election, with voters particularly unhappy at the failure of the ruling Socialists (PSOE) to tackle the crippling unemployment rate – at 21.5% the highest in the European Union

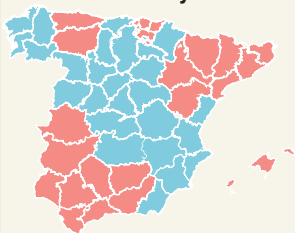

PREDICTED PARLIAMENT 2011*

2008 No overall majority

How the country voted

EXPECTED VOTE BY PROVINCE 2011

