

EU moving towards Iran oil embargo

The European Union says it will decide this month on imposing new sanctions against Iran, including a possible oil embargo, in the hope of choking off funding for the country's nuclear programme. The EU is Iran's second largest oil buyer, with imports of 450,000 barrels per day

BUYERS OF IRANIAN OIL

Percentage of Iran's oil exports
January-June 2011

