

Economic system seen as unfair

A new poll has found that more than two in three people in 10 out of 22 countries believe economic benefits and burdens are not fairly distributed, according to a survey by GlobeScan for the BBC World Service

Globescan survey of 11,740 citizens in 22 countries between December 6, 2011 and February 17, 2012. "Depends, don't know" excluded. Margin of error: $\pm 2.9\%$ to 4.9%
