

Decision due on Trans-Adriatic Pipeline

Greek, Italian and Albanian ministers are expected to sign an accord agreeing to the Trans-Adriatic Pipeline to transport gas from Turkey to Europe. The project would reduce EU reliance on gas from Russia which supplies a quarter of its needs

PIPELINE OPTIONS: Two pipelines shortlisted to carry gas from Azerbaijan. Only one will be built (decision due 2013)

Trans-Adriatic Pipeline

Nabucco West pipeline

Other existing or planned gas pipelines

Shah Deniz II: Largest natural gas field in Azerbaijan. Considered to be main source of gas for Trans-Adriatic and Nabucco West pipeline projects
