

Today in History

September 18, 1905

▲ Enigmatic Swedish film actress Greta Garbo was born. Starting her career in silent movies, she went on to make only 27, retiring in 1941 shunning publicity

1759: France formally surrendered Quebec to the British

1851: The first edition of the New York Times was published

1982: Lebanese Christian militias ended a bloody massacre in the Palestinian refugee camps of Sabra and Chatila in Beirut

2004: The IAEA asked Iran to stop enriching uranium, despite Iran's insistence their purpose was peaceful