

Today in History

November 25, 1952

▲ Imran Khan, former Pakistan cricket captain turned politician, was born; he was defeated in his bid to become prime minister of Pakistan in February 1997

1835: Andrew Carnegie, American steel industrialist and philanthropist, was born

1882: Iolanthe, one of Gilbert and Sullivan's hugely popular comic operettas, opened

1952: Agatha Christie's murder mystery The Mousetrap, the world's longest running show, opened in London

2009: Dubai World, the state-owned real-estate and ports giant, asked for a moratorium on its $59 billion debt