

A portrait of Evo Morales, the first indigenous president of Bolivia. He is a middle-aged man with dark hair, wearing a dark suit jacket over a white shirt and a colorful patterned scarf. He is pointing his right index finger directly at the camera with a slight smile. The background is blurred, showing what appears to be a formal setting with a large wooden chair and a flag.

Today in History

December 18, 2005

▲ Evo Morales won a convincing presidential election victory to become Bolivia's first indigenous head of state since the Spanish Conquest over 470 years earlier

1707: Charles Wesley, co-founder of the Methodist movement, was born

1997: The Tokyo Bay Aqualine bridge and tunnel connecting Kawasaki and Kisarazu opened to traffic after 31 years of studies

2007: Jacob Zuma was elected president of South Africa's ruling African National Congress party

2009: Catalonia voted to ban bullfighting, the beginning of the end of Spain's most controversial sport