

Today in History

January 14, 1954

▲ Baseball star Joe DiMaggio married Marilyn Monroe. Although divorced after nine months, they remained friends and it was DiMaggio who arranged her funeral

1794: The first woman in the U.S. successfully give birth to a child by a Caesarean section

1953: Marshal Josip Broz Tito was elected first president of the Republic of Yugoslavia

1990: Cartoon favourites The Simpsons debuted on America's Fox TV network

2007: The Red Crystal became the official symbol of the International Red Cross and Red Crescent