

Antarctic ice melting faster than expected

The West Antarctic Ice Sheet is warming twice as quickly as previously thought, with a marked 2.4°C rise since 1958, three times faster than the average temperature rise around the globe for the same period

