

Algeria crisis raises issue of energy security

The attack by Islamist militants on Algeria's In Amenas gas complex highlights the vulnerability of oil and gas facilities in the Sahara region.

Algeria provides roughly 20 percent of Europe's natural gas

