

Today in History

March 19, 2011

▲ Knut the polar bear, who became world famous after he was hand-reared by keepers at Berlin Zoo after his mother rejected him, died suddenly at the age of four

1813: David Livingstone, Scottish explorer and missionary in Africa who discovered the Victoria Falls, born

1999: The UN estimated that up to 240,000 people had fled their homes in Kosovo as Serb attacks continued

2002: Zimbabwe was suspended from the Commonwealth because of the dubious Presidential election

2011: European and U.S. forces impose a UN-sanctioned no-fly zone in Libya to prevent a massacre