

VW Golf wins 50th Car of the Year award

Volkswagen's Golf 7 has been named Car of the Year at the Geneva Auto Show. The car was awarded 414 points – beating seven other finalists – by a jury of motoring journalists from 22 European countries

2013

Volkswagen Golf ▶

2012

General Motors ▶

Chevrolet Volt /
Opel/Vauxhall Ampera

First plug-in hybrid vehicle. 330 points

2011

Nissan Leaf
First full electric vehicle
finalist. 257 points

2010

Volkswagen Polo ▶

First VW win since 1992
347 points

2009

Opel/Vauxhall Insignia

Wins close contest – just one point ahead of Ford
Fiesta. 321 points ▶

2008

Fiat 500

Showdown against Mazda 2 leaves
Fiat 60 points ahead. 385 points

