

Israeli parties strike coalition deal

After weeks of deadlock, Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu has reached an agreement with rival parties to form a new government. The coalition will be the first in years without ultra-Orthodox parties

