

Today in History

May 5, 1963

▲ The world's first human liver transplant was carried out by Dr. Thomas Starzl in Denver, Colorado. His patient, a 48-year-old man, survived for 22 days

1818: Karl Marx, Prussian-German philosopher often called the father of communism, was born

1862: Mexican forces defeated the French army at the Battle of Puebla

1983: The Hitler Diaries, published in Germany's Stern and Britain's Sunday Times, were revealed to be a hoax

1992: An Andy Warhol 1962 silkscreen of stacked Coke bottles was auctioned in New York for $2.1 million