Inflatable addition to space station

A low-cost space habitat that inflates like a balloon will be tested aboard the International Space Station. The Bigelow Expandable Activity Module (BEAM) will be installed on the Tranquility section using a robotic arm

