

Spanish jobless tops 6m

More than six million Spaniards were out of work in the first quarter of this year, raising the jobless rate in the eurozone's fourth biggest economy to 27.2% – the highest since records began in the 1970s

