

Egypt election timetable

Interim leader Adli Mansour has outlined a speedy timetable for elections to drag Egypt from crisis, after the military ousting of Islamist President Morsi last week sparked a wave of bloody protests

1 Panel to amend Islamist-drafted constitution – suspended last week – to be formed within 15 days

2 Constitutional amendments to be agreed by group “representing all sections of society” and put to referendum in four months

3 Parliamentary elections to be held by early 2014

4 Presidential elections to be called once new parliament convenes
