

European car sales fall

Car sales in Europe slumped to their lowest total in 20 years in the first half of 2013, with a 5.6% drop in June offering no relief for an industry battered by overcapacity and weak demand

