

Burma-China gas pipeline

China has switched on a pipeline bringing natural gas from Myanmar in a project that highlights the two countries' economic links, even as political ties come under pressure

Length: 793km Capacity: 12 billion cubic meters of gas per year, from Myanmar's offshore reserves

■ Parallel 771km pipeline capable of carrying 22m tonnes of Middle East oil per year, under construction