

Spike in Iraq violence

A wave of car bombs has killed at least 51 people in mostly Shia areas of the Iraqi capital, Baghdad, and in other cities. More than 3,700 Iraqis have died in attacks since March – the worst violence since 2008

