

Today in History

November 28, 2008

▲ Rajo Devi Lohan, aged 70, from India, became the world's oldest first-time mother after giving birth to a baby daughter following IVF fertility treatment

1582: English playwright and poet William Shakespeare married Anne Hathaway. He was 18, she at least 26

1943: Churchill, Roosevelt and Stalin held their first summit, in Tehran, to discuss the progress of WWII

1994: A referendum in Norway rejected membership of the European Union

2002: Twin Al Qaeda attacks in Kenya killed 15 people at an Israeli-owned hotel, and almost downed an Israeli jet at Mombasa Airport