

Iran's interim nuclear deal

Iran will halt its medium-enriched uranium (MEU) programme, stop expanding nuclear sites and agree to daily visits by the UN's International Atomic Energy Agency (IAEA). In return, Iran will receive $7 billion in relief

Iran's President Hassan Rohani

Iran to dilute half its 19.75% MEU stockpile down to 5%
 Enriched to 19.75%: 219kg

Israel's red line: MEU required to produce 20kg of weapons-grade uranium (one warhead): 165kg

