

Today in History

March 1, 1944

▲ Roger Daltrey, founder and lead singer of British rock group The Who, was born. He has also played acting roles, notably in the movie rock opera Tommy

1995: U.S. internet company Yahoo! Inc., was incorporated

1996: Researchers reported transmitting a trillion bits of information a second through an optical fibre, equivalent to making 12 million phone calls at once

1998: Titanic became the first film to gross over $1 billion worldwide

2006: The online encyclopedia Wikipedia reached its one millionth English-language article