

Australia sees possible plane debris

A task force of aircraft and ships has been sent to the southern Indian Ocean to determine if objects spotted by satellite are debris from Flight MH370

Two objects, one up to 24m long, detected some 2,500km southwest of Perth

Source: Australian Maritime Safety Authority

Task force includes Australian and New Zealand P-3 Orion aircraft, and U.S. Navy P8 Poseidon

© GRAPHIC NEWS