

Major impacts of climate change around the world

If the world fails to cut pollution of heat-trapping gases, the already noticeable harms of global warming could spiral “out of control,” a major report by the United Nations has warned

