

Ukraine says Russia fomenting eastern unrest

Ukraine's Prime Minister Arseniy Yatsenyuk has accused Russia of sowing unrest in his country's eastern provinces as a pretext for dispatching troops across the border

1 Luhansk: Gunmen occupying office of Ukrainian security service. Police blocking entrances to city

2 Donetsk: Pro-Russian group in control of regional administration building. Self-proclaimed "people's republic" reportedly organising referendum on region's status and calling on Moscow to deploy peacekeeping troops

3 Kharkiv: Ukrainian authorities say government building cleared of pro-Russian activists, who had occupied site on Sunday. Protesters reportedly awaiting reinforcements from Luhansk and Donetsk

4 Novofedorivka: Ukrainian naval officer shot and killed by Russian soldier during altercation outside Crimean military base

Percentage of people with Russian as their native language (2001 census)

Source: Wire agencies, 2001 Ukraine census

© GRAPHIC NEWS