

North Korea holds live-fire drills near border

North Korea has conducted live-fire drills near its maritime boundary with South Korea, one month after a similar exercise triggered an artillery exchange across the disputed border

Northern Limit Line: Maritime boundary established by UN in 1953, disputed between North and South Korea

Military Demarcation Line: Border claimed by North Korea since 1999