

July 21, 2007

▲ Harry Potter and the Deathly Hallows, last in the popular series, became the fastest selling book in history with 15 million copies sold worldwide in its first 24 hours

1994: Alexander Solzhenitsyn returned to Moscow after 20 years in exile

2005: China announced it would no longer tie the value of its currency, the yuan, to the U.S. dollar

2008: Former Bosnian Serb leader Radovan Karadzic was arrested in Serbia after 12 years on the run

2010: Astronomers announced the discovery of the most massive star ever detected, its recorded mass about 265 times that of the sun