

Today in History

July 23, 2004

▲ An exact replica of Mostar's 400-year-old Ottoman bridge was reopened in Bosnia. The original was destroyed by artillery fire in 1993 during the Bosnian war

1840: Upper and Lower Canada were united as the new Province of Canada

1937: Prolactin, the hormone that promotes milk production in response to suckling, was first isolated from the pituitary gland

1942: The Nazis opened the Treblinka extermination camp in occupied Poland during World War II

1999: U.S. Air Force Colonel Eileen Collins became the first woman to command a space shuttle flight